WASHINGTON.

Cabinet and Other Important

Notations.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—The President has sent the following nominations to the Senate: Chas. J. Folger, of New York, to be Secretary of the Treasury; Thomas L. James, of New York, Postmaster General; Frank Hutton, of Iowa, First Assistant Postmaster General. Consuls: Chas. Kahlo, of Indiana, Sidney Australia; George W. Roosevelt, of Pennsylvania; Bordeaux; J. A. Leonard, of Minnesota; Lieth; John T. Robinson, of Tennessee, Tripoli.

The nomination of Judge Folger as Secretary of the Treasury, while not received with that enthusiasm which Morgan's name elicited, meets with very general approval. The prevailing opinion is that he will make a careful, efficient and safe Secretary.

Editor Hutton, of the Burlington Hawkeye, has received many congratulations upon his appointment as First Assistant Postmaster General.

New York Stock Market.
NEW YORK, October 27, 11 a.m.—The stock market opened strong and higher, and prices immediately advanced 1 1/2 to 1 1/4, the latter for Canada Southern, which sold up to 62. Lake Shore rose to 123 1/2; Michigan Central to 92 1/2; New York Central to 140 1/2; Union Pacific to 121 1/2, and Western Union to 87 1/2. Subsequently there was a reaction of 1 1/2 to 1. It is stated that Vanderbilt and his following were buyers of Lake Shore yesterday, and that Kene has covered his shorts in this stock. The short interest in Western Union is disturbed by the confidence of the Gould party in its advance. Wheat is dull and a shade lower.

They proceeded on an excursion to Spring Grove Cemetery, to return by way of Clifton, Mount Auburn and Walnut Hills to the Highland House, on the edge of Eden Park, where there will be luncheon and a reception this afternoon. The guests, on their route, stopped at Music Hall, and Mr. Whiting played for them on the grand organ.

DANCING DENOUNCED.

The Synod of Erie Won't Have It

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE PITTSBURGH POST.
ERIE, Pa., October 25.—The Presbyterian synod of Erie reassembled this morning. Elder David Lawson of Clarion made the argument in behalf of the Presbytery, which dismissed Heber Donaldson, Esq., of Emlenton, for dancing. He paid a high compliment to Donaldson's private character, but held that this excellence made his violation of church discipline more culpable. He read from the Book of Discipline, showing that it was wholly wrong to engage even in a social dance; that its tendency was downward; that two-thirds of the fallen women of New York owe their present condition to early dancing; that the law of the Presbyterian church was opposed to dancing and dancing was contrary to the teachings of Jesus Christ. Rev. F. S. Leason followed. He reviewed in a forcible manner the evil results flowing from dancing, and said the church was in the danger of the shepherd to watch over its flock. Rev. Dr. Carmichael of South Oil City made the argument in Donaldson's defense. Then the case was put to vote and the synod sustained the action of the Presbytery and Session in expelling Mr. Donaldson from the Emlenton church for dancing.

English Parliament, in 1734, forbidding speculation as to the future prices for securities. So it seems that gambling in futures is not of very recent origin.

The public will watch the progress of this case with interest.

An Interview with Parnell.
NEW YORK Herald, 21.
Our Dublin correspondent has interviewed Mr. Parnell in Kilmainham jail, and has drawn from him a statement of the motives which led to the issue of the "No Rent" manifesto. He says that the latter policy of the League was mainly concerned with the preparation of the test cases which were to be submitted to the Land Court, and that when all its efficient members were imprisoned the milder line of conduct had to be abandoned and an appeal made to the people. He thinks that the manifesto will be generally obeyed, and grounds his belief on the exclusion of fully half the Irish farmers from the benefits of the act. He denies that he ever incited the tenants to acts of intimidation or violence, and maintains that he was prepared to give the bill a fair trial and apply it "in an organized and systematic fashion."

DEATH FROM EXPOSURE.
A Reminder of the Epidemic of 1879.
Special to the Nashville Banner.
ST. LOUIS, October 26.—The Republican says an incident of the terrible yellow fever epidemic of 1879, is recalled in depositions taken yesterday before Notary A. A. Paxon, in the suit brought for $100 by the proprietors of the Hamilton Hotel against the estate of Mr. A. J. Slaughter. Mr. Slaughter was a commission merchant in Memphis, and had only been married a short time when the yellow fever broke out, and he came, with his wife, to St. Louis, taking quarters at Barrum's where he remained from the 11th to the 21st of October. He was taken ill, and in a day or two his illness developed into a case of yellow fever, but of a very mild type. It was reported to the Board of Health, which of course determined to move him to quarantine. He protested that it would be certain death to him, and implored the authorities to let him remain, his wife joining with him in his entreaties. He offered the proprietors of the hotel several thousand dollars to keep him until his recovery, and when all failed he placed his revolver under his pillow and declared he would sell his life as dearly as possible. The weapon was taken from him and he was carried to the quarantine hospital, the exposure, it is alleged, having the effect of killing him. His estate is in the Chancery Court in Memphis, and suit has been instituted there by the proprietors of the hotel for the board of himself and family and the damage done the room by his sickness in it.

Merchants at river towns trading with Memphis will find it to their interest to order their job printing and blank books from the PUBLIC LEDGER job printing office and blank book manufactory, 13 Madison street.

MEMPHIS Degree Lodge, No. 3, I. O. O. F.—The officers and members of this lodge are now requested to meet at their hall on the 31st inst., at 8 o'clock, for work in the degree. Visiting brethren fraternally invited. By order, H. P. FICK & CO., 603 Broadway, New York.

I AM offering at auction, to close out my stock, the lot of new and old store, 218 Front street, will continue repair shop at 2, in rear of J. C. DATES & CO.; also wagon sales.

A Hint to the League.
By Cable to the New York Herald.
LONDON, October 23.—A clever and extraordinary scheme for carrying on the agitation in spite of the government has been proposed to the League by a gentleman unconnected with the organization, but a constant and friendly adviser. He proposes that Messrs. Parnell, Dillon, O'Kelly and Sexton shall resign their seats in Parliament and that new and trusty men be put up for election in their places.

Mr. Vennor's "Weather Bag."
NEW YORK Herald.
Mr. Vennor has just announced his forecast for the coming winter, which he predicts will be rather an open one. He is reported as saying that he looked for a continuance of the warm weather during the approaching winter, broken by waves of low temperature of brief duration, but "disasters of the sunspot theory." A Philadelphia paper, commenting on this last forecast, correctly says: "We fear a very severe winter may be expected; we base this fear on the predictions of the Sage Vennor to the effect that he looks for a continuance of a warm wave," and it anticipates that "about February or March we may expect an expansion from Mr. Vennor that his forecasts were right, but that the waves of low temperature crowded out the warm waves." However unfeeling this anticipation may seem it is, apparently, not wholly groundless. On September 9 the Canadian weather service kindly wrote the Washington Star: "I have just completed my forecasts for the approaching autumn, winter and spring months of the winter of 1881-'82," adding, "I may just open the weather bag sufficiently to let out the forecasting little item relating to the entry of 1882 at Washington, and inform you that there is again every prospect of 'good sleighing' at the capital about the entry of the new year. Prepare for your sleighing 'carnival.' Evidently on the 9th ult. he was looking for anything else but 'a continuance of the warm wave' now announced, and which appears to have been an afterthought with the great forecaster. There is therefore some excuse for the Philadelphia critic's unsympathetic apprehension that Mr. Vennor may yet revise or revise his winter forecasts, in which last month he wrote, 'I feel a great measure of confidence.'"

The Atlanta Exposition.
ATLANTA, October 24.—The International Cotton Exposition has been open nineteen days, and now begins to assume the proportions of a great International Fair. Gentlemen who were close observers of the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia, and competent judges, say that the Atlanta Exposition is fully equal to the great and successful World's Fair, after eliminating from the latter all the foreign exhibits. This simply means that the American exhibits at Atlanta are fully equal to those at Philadelphia. Judging by this well-considered opinion from my own observation of both exhibits.

ASTHMA

Quickly and Permanently CURED

Dr. Steiner's Asthma Remedy is unequalled as a positive Alternative and Cure for Asthma and Dyspnea, and all their attendant evils. It does not merely suppress the attack, but it is a permanent cure. Mrs. R. F. Lee, of Baltimore, G. says of it: "I am proud to state that I have been cured of my Asthma, and I am now as well as ever." If you are afflicted with Asthma, send for a bottle of Dr. Steiner's Asthma Remedy, and you will be cured.
